Biography

Michele Denise, American blues vocalist/songwriter, was born and raised in the southern states of the USA with roots in gospel and jazz. "Sultry" Sugar Queen captivates her audience with her unique Chicago blues style. She tells her stories with gritty raw emotion.

In her early years, Michele worked as a church pianist and sang and directed choirs. Receiving a university scholarship, she played classical piano. Never straying from her blues and gospel roots, she continued to perform in USA.

Relocating overseas, Michele worked in China and Malaysia. In 2017, Sugar Queen broke on the European Blues music stages performing at a large number of major festivals and clubs. Her Sugar Queen LIVE European tour was wildly successful. Sugar Queen now resides in Europe.

"Sugar Queen took us to her family in Alabama for a moment and there was a moment when you could almost smell the moonshine from her father."
